5/20/86 Mrs. Gue

Michelle,

It seems like it was only yesterday that we met. The old saying, Time flies when you're having fun must be true! Because time has really flown by and I've had lots of fun and I know you have too.

I know you dread having to graduate because you have to leave me behind, but never fear you can always write me. C/O

The Commodore 1986

Maury High School
322 Shirley Avenue
Norfolk, Virginia 23517

It takes a lot for a principal to be idolized by an entire student body. Respect of an authority figure is always expected, but genuine admiration is rare and only earned. Frank Sellew, through his suave character and concern for each student, earned his admiration. As long as Maury stands, a piece of Sellew's spirit will always be with it.

The Senior Class of 1986 dedicates the "86" Commodore to Dr. Frank Sellew.

1986: The End of an Era

The school year begins in the same pattern that has been followed by decades, but this year there is a difference. 1986 represents the end of a seventy year era. In years following 1986, renovations will take place changing both the inside of the school and its student life as a whole. The look and feel of Maury will be changed forever. 1986 then is a year of letting go, but to the 1986 yearbook staff it is a year of preservation and recording for the last time the compiled elements that made Maury what it represents today.

STUDENT LIFE

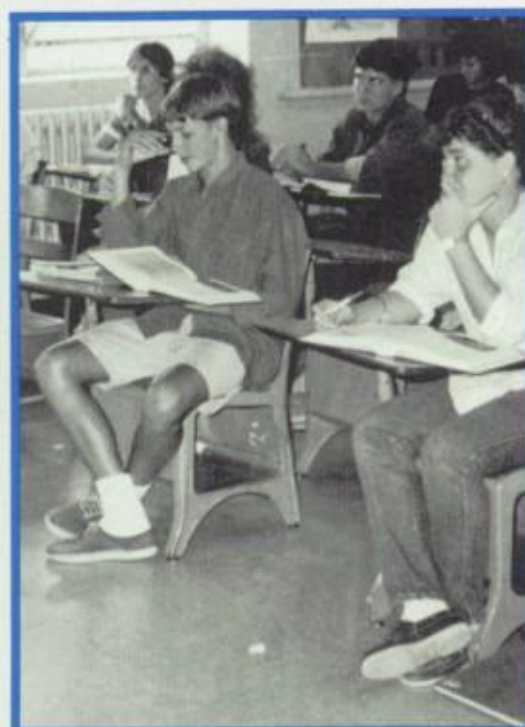

Caught in the Act

The roving camera of Maury's year-book has caught these students in the act. Whether it is taking a test or chatting with a friend, Maury's students keep a fine balance between educational and social activities. Maury's proud history of academic excellence is maintained while the students at Maury enjoy interesting classes.

Expressions

Each day our lives are filled with different expressions. Everyone expresses happiness through smiles, chuckles and laughter. One communicates anger through yelling or turning fiery red. We demonstrate disappointment and dissatisfaction with a frown. People show emotions of excitement through grins and giggles of hopefulness and anticipation. Every day people at Maury reveal their feelings through their expressions.

The Buddy System

The well known Buddy system is illustrated by these friendly Maury students. The Commodore Buddy system can be found in the hallways, the classrooms, the library, or even outside. No matter where you go, you can always find a friendly Commodore.

Senior Superlatives

Here is the best that the 1986 senior class has to offer. These students are being recognized for outstanding performances in seven different areas. From best dressed to best all around, these graduating Commodores have proved that they really are the best of the class.

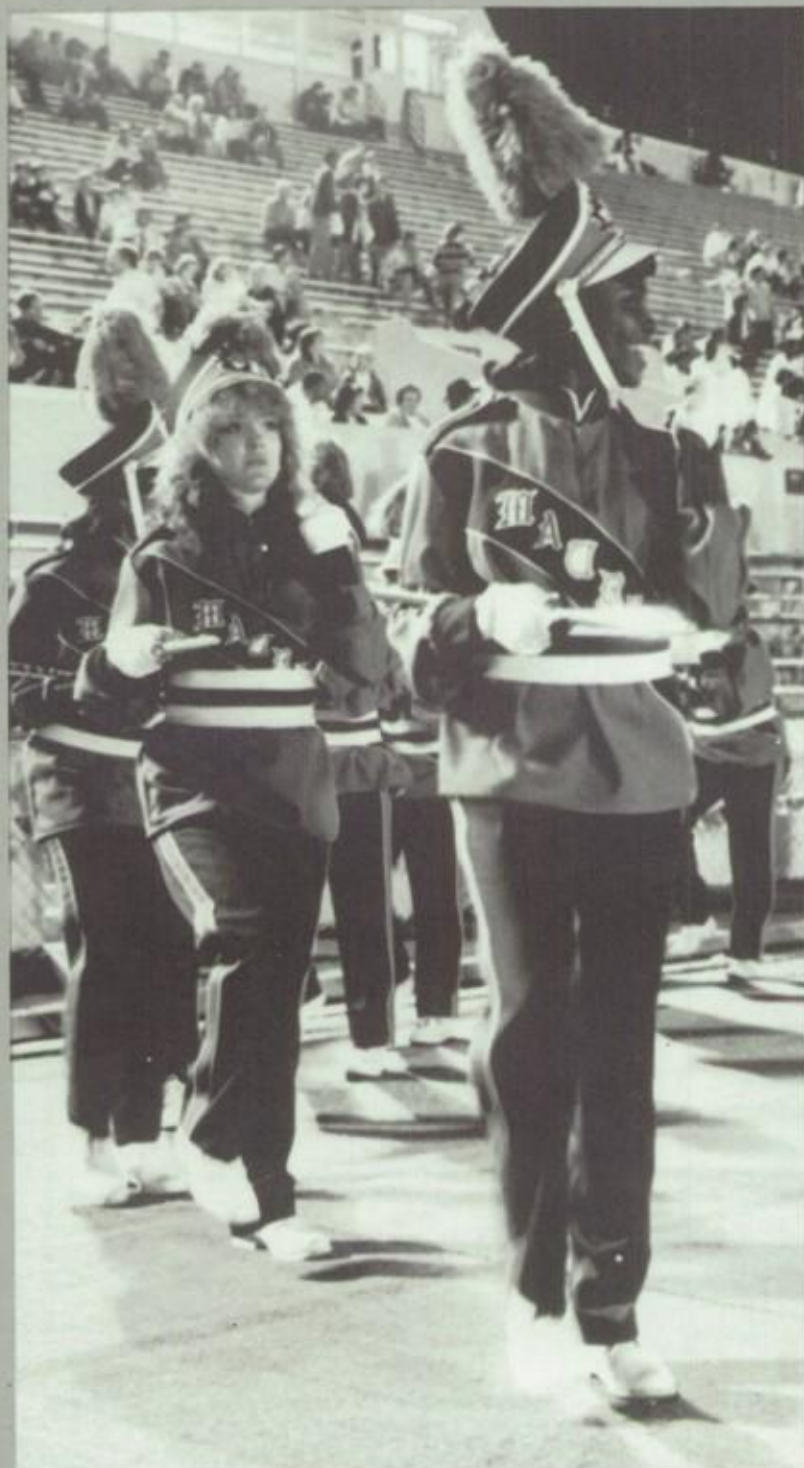

Top: Most Athletic, Lynn Rice and Robert Ferebee. Left: Most school spirited, Kelly May and Terry Odom. Right: Most Popular Jamie Holmes and George Gatlin.

Homecoming 1985: Commodores Reel in Victory over Bayside Marlins

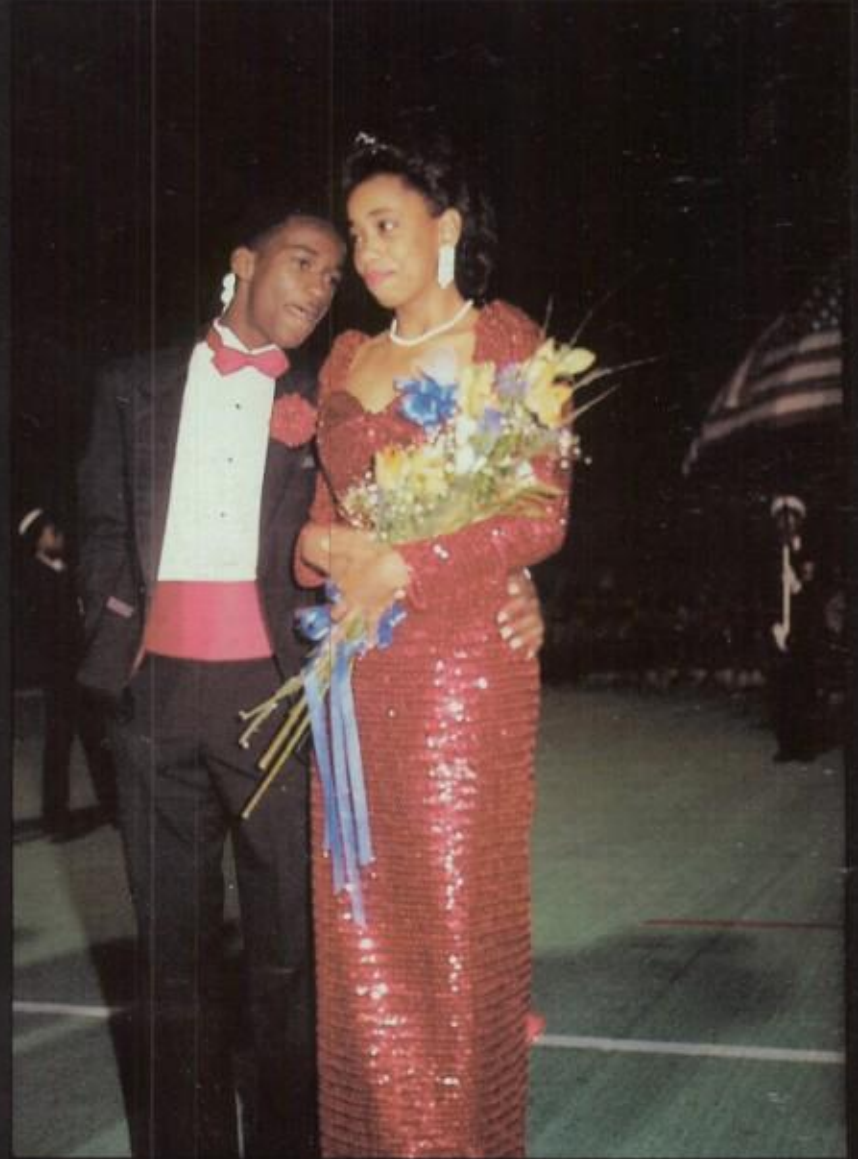

Homecoming 1985, the most anticipated game of the season, fulfilled all expectations. Our Commodores wiped out the Bayside Marlins 22-6. Senior quarterback Pat Yanez threw for two touchdowns and kicked a 25 yard field goal to clinch the victory. The halftime festivities were just as exciting. During halftime, elaborate floats circled the stadium and Maury's band and drill team put on a spectacular show. The climax of the halftime was the entrance of the Homecoming Court and the crowning of the 1985 Homecoming Queen Denise Watson by last year's queen Kimberly Turner. Homecoming 1985 was truly an event to be long remembered.

SPORTS

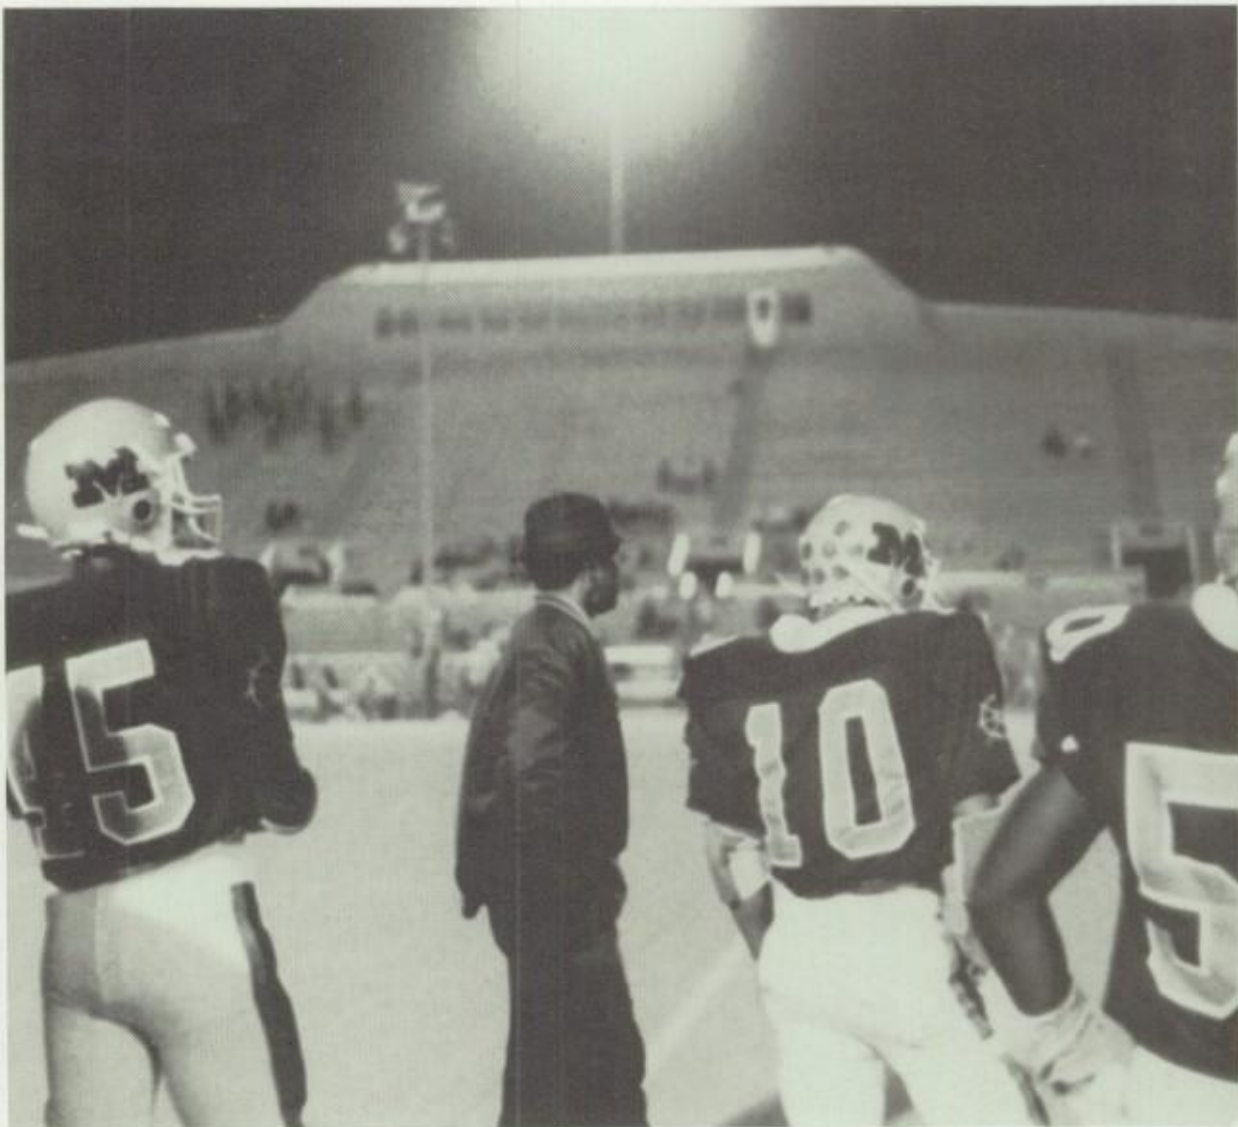

The first Maury athletes wore flannel and leather helmets, and jumped into sawdust filled pits with poles. Equipped now with the finest gear, our activities on the playing fields, in the gyms and the pools, would astound the early graduates of Maury, just as the exploits of the athletes 75 years hence will astound us. Maury is lucky to have prior athletes who have dedicated themselves to promoting Maury as a school of champions. Because of their groundwork, Maury has become a name synonymous with effort, pride and respect. As we enter into an era, our athletes will continue to carry on our name and our traditions.

Varsity Football

One Size Too Small

Maury's Varsity football team finished the season with a 4-5-1 record. Considering their young and inexperienced team, Coaches Hoffmann and Stickney classified the 85-86 season as a rebuilding period. Not all of Maury's starting players were beginners, however, and these few stood out in the crowd. Even with this experience, these players were hindered by their small size. Despite this disadvantage, Robert Ferebee won the Rufus Tonelson Award for his outstanding leadership and performance on the team by averaging seventy-five yards a game. Another veteran of the team, Terrence Fields, was awarded the honor of Most Valuable Player for his leadership on both offense and defense by leading the team in both tackles and assists. The 85-86 Commodore football team was not out classed, but only out weighed by their opponents.

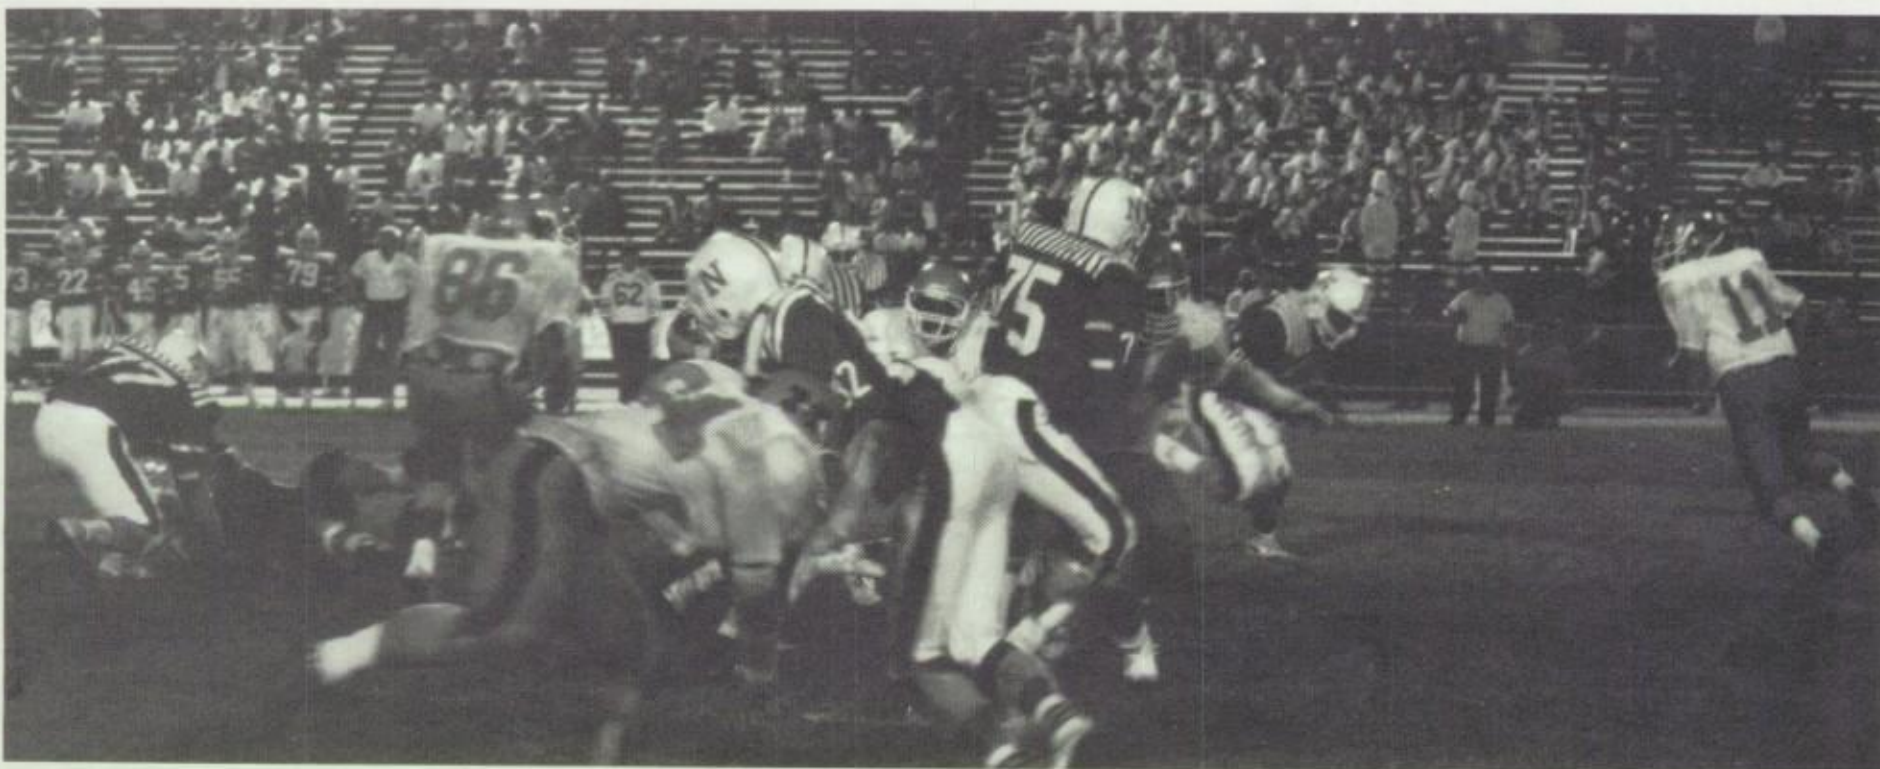

The Varsity Football staff at Maury demonstrates leadership and sportsmanship to their players. They are excellent teachers of football and are always willing to stay late after practice to help players in need. Even though they may yell once or twice a day, their hearts are always in the right places.

Commodores in Action

Junior Varsity Football

Young Commodores Play Like Veterans

Maury's J.V. Football coach, Harold Sigler, successfully guided his young squad to a 5-2 season record. The J.V. Commodores lost only to Booker T. Washington and Norview who later went on to win the district championship. Maury's defense allowed a district low forty-four points to be scored, while the Commodore offense scored ninety-four points. The team was composed of mostly eighth and ninth grade students. Even though the average age of the team was one of the youngest ever, Coach Sigler proclaimed them as some of the best material he has seen in thirteen years. Top honors went to Michael Harvey who was named M.V.P. and Eric Speight who took the award for the most improved player. These talented young football players will certainly be welcomed into the Varsity ranks.

Junior Varsity Cheerleading

The life of a Maury J.V. Cheerleader is a rough one. Not only are they asked to support both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams, they have to smile while doing it. Led by their energetic sponsor Miss Walston, these talented young ladies are required to possess athletic skills as well as a smile. Just like the teams they cheer on, the girls have rigorous practices they must attend. These hard practices paid off when they received a superior rating from the National Cheerleading Association this year. All J.V. Cheerleaders must maintain a 2.0 grade point average or risk being put on academic probation. Miss Walston's J.V. Cheerleaders are truly a remarkable bunch.

Varsity Cheerleading

Varsity Cheerleaders are Extra Spirited!

The Varsity Cheerleaders have the responsibility to inspire and motivate both the team and the crowd. They also maintain good school spirit and sportsmanship. Because the duties of the Varsity Cheerleaders are so important to our school, Mrs. Watson, the sponsor, carefully selects those students who can meet the challenge. In order to be a cheerleader, a student must remain academically eligible at all times and be able to perform very complicated and almost acrobatic jumps. Even though these cheerleaders are asked to do a lot for our school, they never complain and always smile while doing it.

Field Hockey

The 1985 Field Hockey team, coached by Patricia Panzik, took yet another district championship. Led by the outstanding seniors Lynn Rice, Mary Paterson, and Beth Dashiell, the field hockey team managed to continue their Eastern District dominance with long hours on the practice field and frequent team rap sessions. This talented team has proved that practice does indeed make perfect.

Their winning season complete, these girls went to Regionals ready to bring home another championship. The game, however, was lost in penalty strokes to Lafayette. This was a rather disappointing end to a great season. Coach Panzik feels that next year's team will be equally talented, thereby increasing their chances for a win in Regionals.

Girls' Tennis

Six Shutouts Paved the Way

The girls' tennis team, coached by Mrs. Laughner, won yet another district title this year. The tennis team ended the regular season with an outstanding record of 10-0 in which they had six shutouts and outscored their opponents 82-7.

Maury came in second place in Regional play after they beat Great Brige 7-2, yet they fell 1-8 in the championship to First Colonial.

Among all the great players on the team, Temby Caprio stood out the most. Ranked number one for the entire season, she won the Norfolk Sports Club outstanding player award.

With only one senior in the top six players, the Commodores can look forward to dominating districts once again next year.

Cross Country

The girls' cross country team, coached by Wilber Sherin, raced to a district crown this past season by defeating second placed Booker T. Washington by an impressive 30 point spread. The Lady Commodores were led by Jennifer Logan who later advanced to Regionals where she placed fourth. The girls' cross country team plans to place equally well in the districts next year while improving their personal times. The boys' team, also coached by Mr. Sherin, went on to secure third place under the leadership of captain Roderick Pettaway.

Second Row: Elizabeth Brandon, Becky Spear, Kate Bohannon, Laura Cramer, Lisa Conklin, Whitney Folkes, Miriam Washington.

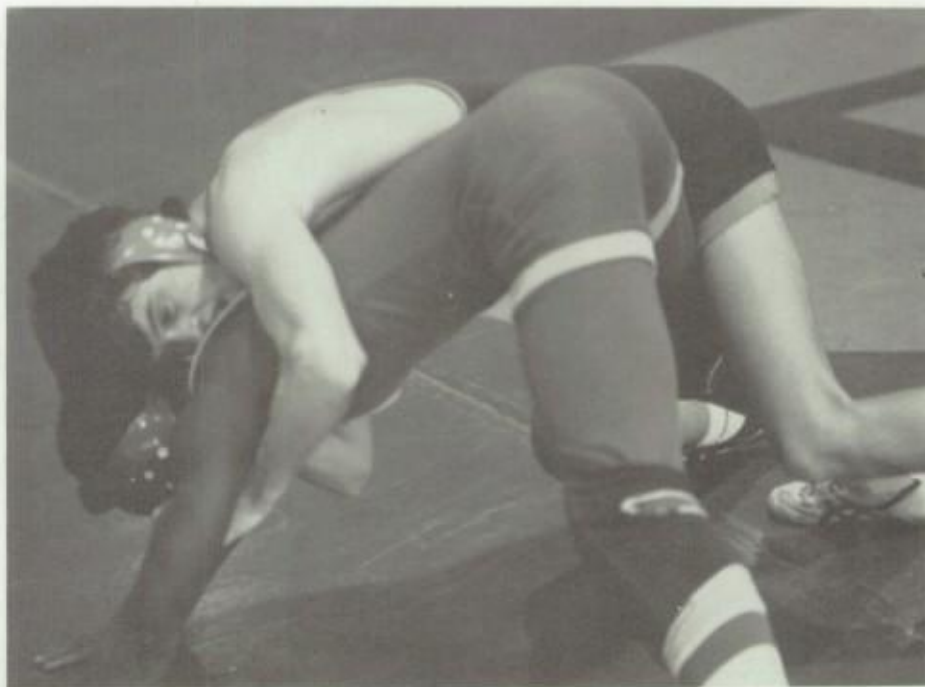

The Golf Team

Jerry Sazio, the boys' varsity golf coach, led his team to a 4-1-1 record and the Eastern District Title. Senior Chris Burnes, the team's most valuable player, placed second in the districts ending his superb year of play most appropriately. The team as a whole concluded its season with an impressive ninth place finish in Regionals. Despite the fact that the team's four seniors will not be returning next season, Coach Sazio is confident that his remaining players will come through for him next season.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

Once again Maury's Varsity Basketball Team has proven to be another outstanding team composed of many talented athletes. Through long and hard practices, Maury's Coach Jack Baker guided his young basketball team to a 19-4 record and a second place stading in the regular season. Two of their defeats were at the hands of their number one rival-Booker T. Washington. Although Maury played excellent games, they could never quite overcome the fighting Bookers. But when it really mattered, the mighty Commodores defeated Booker T. 54-46 in order to win their second consecutive Eastern District Championship. The Commodores were led by the number one and number two ranked scores in the district-Senior Ralph Young and Junior Kenny Brown. Also leading the team were talented rebounders Alex Hawkins and Cornell Parker. The basketball players have maintained a close relationship among themselves as well as with the teams' indispensable managers Charles Broach, Chee Pucher, and Alonzo Hill. With the departure of seven players, Coach Baker's team will require a lot of hard work and an abundance of Commodore support. But just as they have done in the past, next year's team will prove to be another batch of true champions.

New to Maury's staff this year is girl's basketball coach Debra Rocke who was impressed by the individual talent which this young team showed throughout the season. Led by Temby and Teleria, the girl's spirit never seemed to fad. The team gave their best effort when asked and improved from game to game. Managers of this year's team were Meredith Johnson, Felecia Hall and Angie Riddick. Next year's team should do well in the district with the return of many young talented players.

Boys' J.V.

The Boys' J.V. Basketball team, coached by Lonnie Blowe, finished third in the district this year with a 6-6 record. This statistic, however, does not do justice to Maury's developing basketball stars. Led by freshmen Cherrod Joe and Ross Norris and sophomore Marcellus Snipes at the start of the season, the boys felt the loss when both Cherrod and Marcellus moved up to the varsity team to finish the season. The J.V.s never faltered though and continued to excell both individually and as a team. With such determination and talent, Coach Blowe expects nothing bust the best from next year's team.

Girls' J.V.

Despite their rather disappointing season, the Girls' J.V. Basketball team never lost their love for the game. This year's squad was coached by Denise Duffy and the team manager was Annette Manley. With their 0-12 record, the girls could only settle for fifth place in the district. Nevertheless, Coach Duffy was impressed with her team, especially Tiffany Yanez who excelled in rebounding and scoring. All of the girls were able to improve on their individual skills as the season progressed. Coach Duffy believes this season should prove to be a very good building year for the inexperienced squad.

The Maury wrestling team, led by Coach Paul Hoffman, finished 1-10 for the year and fourth in the Eastern District. The team was led by senior Alex Serrano, who was the top heavyweight in the district, and Alan Almonzaro who wrestled in the 155 class and provided overall leadership. The team, which had six first year wrestlers in the lineup, promises to be a strong young team for next year.

Mark Hagan displays awesome wrestling ability.

Maury Swimming

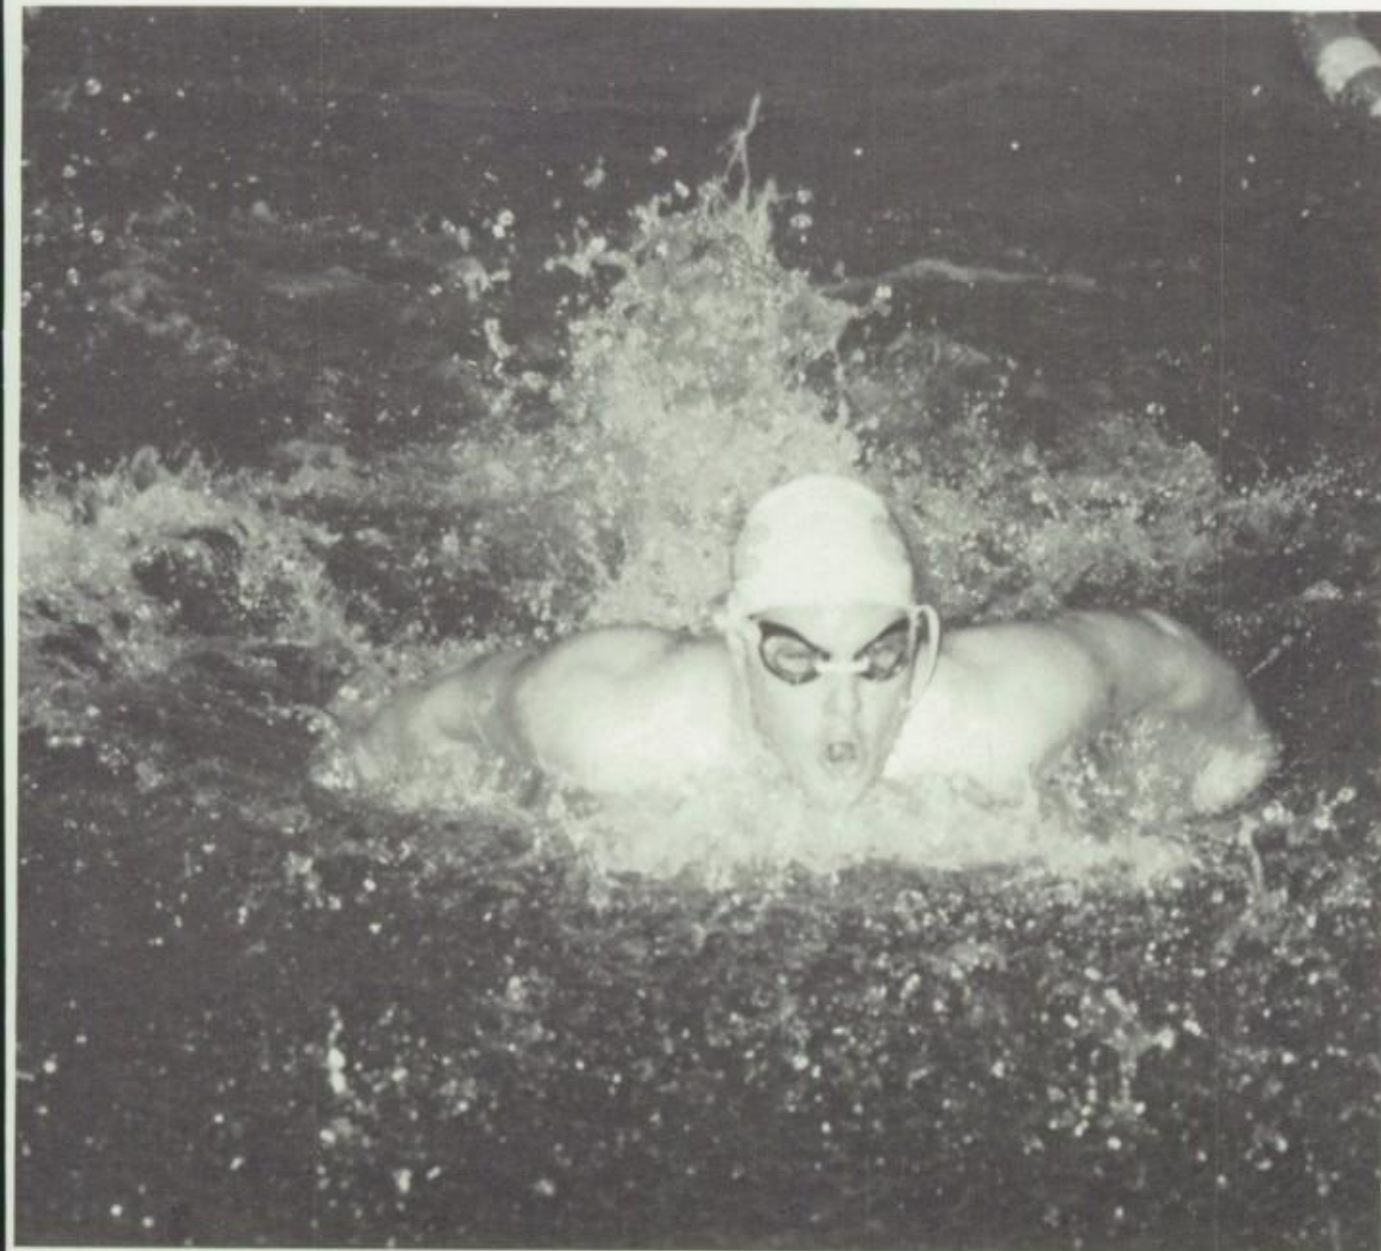

Maury's Swimming and Diving team dominated the Eastern District once again this 85-86 season with both the girls and the boys finishing the regular season undefeated. Coaches Ann Laughner and Marty Bechtol deserve a lot of credit for their efforts. Maury did equally well in the Eastern District Championship as they took first place in most every event. The teams will lose only eight seniors to graduation this year, leaving the coaches with high hopes for another championship season next year.

Spring Sports

Softball

They Always Play Hard Until the Last Out

The Maury softball team, coached by Ms. Panzik, managed a third place finish in the Eastern District with an overall record of seven wins and nine losses. The returning players, however, are far from discouragement. They are already looking forward to next season with hopes of capturing the district title. The year was not without outstanding players. Michelle Banserman, Kathy Higgins, Meredith Johnson and others always played hard until the last out was made.

Girls' Track

Running With High Hopes

The girls' track coach, Mrs. Watson, had to deal with a very young and inexperienced team this year. Their overall season ended in a disappointing 0-8 record. Mrs. Watson, however, feels that this record will be greatly improved upon next season with some of the best athletes returning and an anticipated influx of new talent. Mrs. Watson has good reason to have high hopes for next season.

Back Row: Uresla Hill, Celeste Sullivan, Keisha Hayes, Sabrina Benson, Annie Teshara, Sonja Crockett, Gabrielle Vaillancourt, Karen Corcoran, Laura Cramer, and Coach Watson. Boys' Track

They Keep Running Along

The 1985 Boys' Track Team finished third in the Eastern District with a 4-6 record. The team was led by David Luster, Ralph Young, and William Sanderlin who all advanced to the Eastern Regionals. William Sanderlin took the Macklin Award for being a leader and for going undefeated the entire season in the discus throw. Although the season could have been improved upon, the team was solid in the sprints, middle, and long distances. They were also strong in the long, high, and triple jumps. Coach Thornton is looking forward to a good season next year.

Front: Robert Brown, Sayyar Shahreyar, Dane White, Roderick Pettway, Kevin Hodges, Robert Johnson, Mark Shank, Steven Stuart, Brad Dietrich. Baseball

A Baker's Dozen

Maury's baseball team wrapped up its 1985 season with a winning record. Mike Strub, the team's most valuable player and leading hitter, helped guide his team to a second place district finish. This year, Coach Baker and Assistant Coach Bechtol placed three team members on the All Eastern District Squad: shortstop Mike Strub; pitcher John Paterson; pitcher and outfielder Eddie Thomas. If this year was any indication of the team's ability, baseball fans have a great season to look forward to as these young players improve and mature.

Girls' Soccer

Another Winning Season

The 1985 girls' soccer team advanced to the state championship. The team was coached by Harold Sigler and senior Brenda Wood. Danielle Boecker received the Most Valuable Player award for leading the Lady Commodores to a 14-1 record. Their only loss came to Robert E. Lee High School in the group AAA championship game. The team, however, did win the Eastern District and Regionals finals. Things look equally bright for next year because the girls' soccer team will lose only three seniors.

Boys' Soccer

An Undefeated Season

The Maury boys' soccer team capped yet another outstanding season by winning their fifth district title in six years. The team finished second in the region by losing to Green Run. Finishing the season at 9-3, the team went undefeated in district play. Coach Sean Fahey expects a strong team this year with the majority of the starters returning. The team looks toward their season with high expectations.

Boys' Tennis

The boys' tennis team dominated the Eastern District for the third straight year. Under the guidance of Red Stickney, the team showed new talent and new determination. Although undefeated in the Eastern District (8-0), the team fell in the Regional Tournament by a slim margin of 5-4. Only three players were last to graduation. Returning letterman include Pat Rollins, Pete Haws, Frank Calloham, John Rose, Vic Gorgano and Mark Thearle. Once again, the Commodore net men are expected to dominate the districts.

Rose displays excellent form.

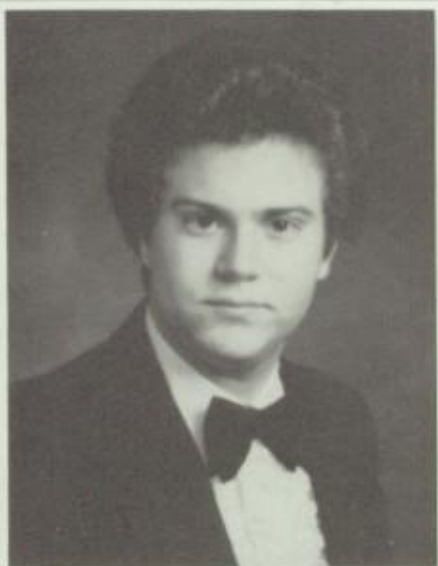

SENIORS

William Howard Taft was president of the United States, Arizona was still a territory, travel was by rail or boat, roads were muddy ruts in wet weather and dusty washboards in dry weather, phonograph records were still produced on cylinders, radio was still a decade and a half away, movies were still in their infancy -this was all 75 years ago when Maury High School first opened its doors and began educating the youth of Norfolk. This year's graduating class will be the last in that long succession of seniors who got into the world from these walls. The seniors who will be graduating in the succeeding years will graduate from new and different walls and from new and different traditions.

CLASSES

Computers and software, bits and bytes, laser discs and VCRs, television and stereo radio—we do not remember when it was any other way. It was always this, our experience tells us, but our minds say that there was another time, a slower time, and a easier time. We know that others built the roads we have traveled and we recognize the roads we must build for those to follow. As the benediction is said on the past, let us utter the invocation for the future. We will graduate in the new era of Maury. Let us pay homage to our past classmates and ask our progeny to treat our efforts with respect and our trail blazing with charity.

As 1986 ends, these juniors will only have to wait one more year until they graduate. Soon they will be making educational and career decisions that will affect them the rest of their lives. Maury is lucky to have this '86 Junior class as the rising Senior class of '87.

CLUBS

We come together from varied backgrounds but with common interest in subject and activity. This cross mixing of culture enriches us all. Those who would have been excluded in the first five decades of the Maury history, are now an integral phase of student activity. Because we all care and each bring a unique talent to the group endeavor, the whole is much richer, and much more worthy of sharing.

Flag Girls and Majorettes

The flag girls and majoreettes, with their spirit and finesse, complete the Maury band unit. They perform their colorful routines during halftime at all Maury football games by spreading the orange and blue spirit among the crowd. Our congratulations to those few who have earned the honor of carrying Maury's colors.

Maury's Navy NJROTC Unit is designed to instill leadership qualities, self-discipline, and self-esteem in its cadets. Since the unit was first organized in 1969, Maury's NJROTC has represented our school in both parades and drill meets. The NJROTC Unit placed first in the region out of thirty-two schools and sixth nationally out of 445 entrants in academic competition among NJROTC Units. The NJROTC also participated in civic events and food drives. The unit, however, is best known for the presentation of colors at football and basketball games. The NJROTC adds pride to Maury while helping Maury.

Pep Club

The Pep Club, sponsored by Mr. Stith, is designed to promote school spirit among Maury's students. This club is open to any student who is in good standing with the school and is willing to learn the club cheers. The Pep Club supports all of the school's sport's programs by sponsoring a pep bus to take spirited students to those games which are not played at home. The Pep Club brings together a variety of students interested in wholesome fellowship for the purpose of raising the level of school spirit.

FHA

The Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Mrs. Porter, is open to any junior or senior who is enrolled in a home economics class. FHA provides an opportunity for its members to begin preparation for family and community living while aiding the students with their present personal and family lives. The club raises money each year in order to send delegates to a national FHA conference where the chosen students learn more than ever and are given the opportunity to share their knowledge. Remaining funds are contributed to St. Mary's Home. Involvement in the Future Homemakers of America Club truly prepares its members for their future lives in all walks of life.

FBLA

Sponsored by Mrs. Brenda Kennedy, the Future Business Leaders of America strives to improve the business leadership skills of its members. To be a part of the FBLA, a student must excell in business classes such as typing or accounting. Club members are given the opportunity to interact with guest speakers from businesses thus educating the students to the ways of the adult business world. This year, the club took part in various fund raising and school and community activities.

DECA

The Distributive Education Club of America, sponsored by Ms. Fraser and Ms. Mayo, is a co-curricular organization open to any student enrolled in Marketing or Distributive Education classes. The program offers students valuable skills in obtaining job contacts and maintaining positive public relations. DECA also offers specialized job training in areas including automotive, business, food service, and general merchandising. Many of the 120 students involved in DECA hold part-time jobs which fulfill requirements for the club. DECA is yet another means by which Maury prepares its students for the future.

West Club

Maury's West-Leo Club is one of the longest lasting organizations at Maury High School. The West Club, sponsored by Mr. John Viccellio, Mr. Tom Bashara, and Mr. Dave Campbell, is a service organization which helps to increase awareness and spirit among students at Maury. Led by Blaine Bonadies and a flock of new members, the club once again won the annual Homecoming float competition by a wide margin. New members were required to participate in the traditional Hell Week- a week long initiation consisting of dressing in unusual garb and doing out of the ordinary act.

Garnett, a club organization serving the school and its community, annually participates in both school sponsored and local charities. One such event, Maury's Homecoming, is highlighted by the Garnett's combined effort with West to produce and enter an extravagant float. Garnett, however, also concentrates on more pressing social problems than homecoming floats. For example, Garnett sponsors a child impoverished in India as well as donating yearly Thanksgiving baskets in our community. The club adds greatly to Maury through their worthwhile activities.

Key Club

The Key Club, an essential part of Maury's extracurricular program, adheres to a tradition of excellence. The club motto: to initiate personal responsibility, appears in the many charitable undertakings that this club launches. This year's sponsor, Mr. Charles Collins, and president Pete Haws preside over the organization. The Key Club concentrates its efforts on such noble events as the annual state Key convention and community luncheons. The Key Club also participates with the Keyette Club for such things as Homecoming floats and football games. Keep up the good work men.

Keyettes which is one of the most popular clubs among the girls at Maury is also one of the largest in the school this year with its ninety members. Though one would suspect that with its large membership, club unity and activities would be hard to achieve, the president Andrea Vaillancourt and the Keyettes' sponsor Ms. Maurelli do a miraculous job. The Keyettes, with the Key club members, enter an original float in the Homecoming parade each year and successfully compete against their male counterparts in an annual power-puff football game. Despite all the fun and enjoyment associated with Keyettes, its primary function is that of a service club. This year's beneficiary is the Adam Walsh Resource center which helps to aid missing and neglected children. The Keyettes also volunteer their services to Festivals and help the community by doing volunteer work during the Ghent Street Fair and Harborfest.

Gentlemen's Club

The Gentleman's Club has been an important part of Maury life for five years. Under the leadership of Charlie Cabaras, the club participates in many worthwhile activities each year. This year, as in the past, the club prepared Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the needy. The club also donated time and money to many school projects--such as the fruit drive. A talent show to be sponsored by the club is in the works. John Babb, President, Art Johnsen, Vice-President, and Zachary Reid, Treasurer, all provide senior leadership.

This year's class, headed by faculty sponsor Ann Laughner, has been active in the promotion of school spirit this year. The class sold Maury sweatshirts and mugs, and made a substantial amount of money for their yearly activities. These activities include the prom, graduation and unity within the senior class. All potential candidates for graduation are eligible for membership.

Octagon Club

Started by a small group of students and interested teacher, Mr. Pitt, the Octagon Club became a part of Maury life this year. Though the club is open to all full time students in grades ten through twelve, candidates must receive a majority vote from the members present to be admitted into this exclusive club. The Octagon club provides an opportunity for its members to contribute to the workings of the Norfolk Optomist Club. The club's goal is not only to provide the opportunity for members to improve their leadership skills, but also the club allows the opportunity for students to assist in such activities as the ODU Swim Meet and Basketball Tournament.

Top Row: Mary Rose, Brian Owens, Chuck Woolridge, Pete Haws, Tony Wilhelm, Steven Cancino, David Meier, Nelson Hudgins, Leigh Blevins, Mary Paterson, Jane Rossheim. German Honor Society

The German Honor Society jointly sponsored by Frau Ramsey and Frau Zentz strives to increase student interest in the German language and culture. The club recognizes excellence in the challenging subject, and membership is open only to those students completing one and one half years of German with an A average. The club's projects and activities vary from year to year depending upon the interests and talents of the members. The German Honor Society is a means of encouraging academic excellence at Maury, and furthering a student's awareness of German speaking nation.

OFFICERS: Anthony Wilhelm, Leigh Blevins, Mary Rose, Laura Cramer.

Bottom Row: David Delk, Frau Ramsey, Anthony Wilhelm, Leigh Blevins, Mary Rose, Laura Cramer, Frau Zentz, Tom Johnson. French Honor Society

Sponsored by Mme. Pickett, the French Honor Society furthers student awareness in the French language and culture through extended educational opportunities. One such extracurricular activity involves the chance for club members to hear guest speakers who are knowledgeable of French culture and life. In order to be invited into the French Honor Society, a student must complete one and one half years of course study with an A average as well as maintaining a 3.0 over all grade point average. This club's yearly activities include dining in a French restaurant and taking part in a trip to a French speaking country.

OFFICERS: Miriam Washington, Mary Bailey, Gina Calandria, Karen Corcoran, and Daniella Cracknell.

Top Row: Sean Gorman, Patrice Ehbauer, Pete Haws, Samantha Barger, Curry Smith, Lisa Paulson, Stephanie Johnson, David Meier, and Michelle Williams.

Spanish Honor Society

The Spanish Honor Society, one step above the Spanish Club, requires its members to maintain a 3.0 grade point average in their Spanish classes while continuing to excel in their other classes. To become a member of this prestigious club, the students must not only maintain A's and B's in Spanish, but they must also show their understanding of the Spanish culture which they get to flaunt in front of guest speakers. The Spanish Honor Society is a club which carries prestige and honor.

OFFICERS: Jeanette Monola, John Herman, Diane Max, Alafia Johnson.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Sawyer, strives to increase student interest in the Spanish language, culture, and people. Any student who has completed at least two years of Spanish is eligible and welcomed to join and participate in the many activities. This year the Spanish Club held fund raisers, a Christmas Dinner, and embarked on a fabulous trip to Florida which provided the club members with just the right mixture of fun and academics.

The Maury Chorale

Chorus

Mrs. Newton, Maury's new choral director, led this group of excellent singers to be one of the finest vocal groups in Norfolk. The highlights of this year's success was the annual Christmas program which enthralled crowds of all ages.

Concert and Mixed Chorus

First Row: Shannon Jones, Kimberly Parson, Rochelle Epplein, Beth Sam, Tanya Matthews. Second Row: Ginny Brockett, Christy Gallatin, Kathryn Parker, Ursula Hill.

Drama Club

Many of Maury's aspiring actors and actresses participate in the Drama Club. Sponsored by Mrs. Whitehead, the Drama Club gives all of its members a practical opportunity for first hand experience in all phases of Theatre Art. Members are required to have a genuine interest in drama and must prove themselves realible. The club performs as many plays as possible throughout the school year. The drama club often travels to other schools and performs for outside groups.

Concert Band and Orchestra

Advanced Orchestra

The Concert Band and Orchestra, both sponsored by Dr. Utley, strives to improve the musical talents of its members. Membership requirements for each consists of an audition and a recommendation from a previous music teacher. The band functions at Maury as a spirited salute to our school. The band performs at pep rallies, during half-time at football games, and in parades. The orchestra displays its talents in concerts both at Maury and throughout the community. Without the band and orchestra, Maury would be out of tune.

First Row: Heidi Swanson, Amy Caddle, Anne Palmer, Jeanette Monola, Felecia Cox, Angela Randolph, Stanley Marcum, Amy Leigh, Lynda Aguda, Christy Bonis. Second and Third Row: Jean Sutton, Kendon Parker, Joshua Hester, Aprille Harris, Elizabeth Johnson, Jennifer Goldstein, Kelly Porcher, Laura Hoddinott, Angie Serrano, Yvette Herbert, Mary DeAngelis, Heather Wells, Anita Couper, Lisa Betts, Alonzo Hill, Amy Levitin. Sailing

The sailing club, sponsored by Mrs. Drew, gives the experienced sailor an opportunity to use his skills in competition with area schools. The Sailing Club attends local regattas in the spring and fall. Sailing is a growing NCAA intercollegiate sport. Hopefully, in the future these sailors from Maury will go on to participate at the university level.

AIASA

The American Industrial Arts Student Association at Maury, sponsored by Mr. Cliff Harrison, is composed solely of industrial arts students. The organization expands the students' knowledge through contact with industrial leaders within the community. The members, in turn, partake in annual activities which better help our school and community by putting to use those skills which they have learned from the professionals. Those involved in AIASA should take pride in work well done.

Photo Club

Sponsored by Mrs. Judy Saunders, the photography club is an asset to both our school and our community. For the fee of five dollars, any student with an interest in photography is eligible to join. While improving the photography skills of its shutterbug members, the club also assists the school by taking care of special photographic needs. The photographers often go on day long excursions to surrounding areas and professional photography studios. These photography enthusiasts are also invited to participate in the White House News Photography Association Seminar at the Smithsonian in Washington D.C. These students truly know the meaning of the phrase: a picture is worth a thousand words.

The Chess Club

The Chess Club, sponsored by Mrs. Petroske, offers fun and competitive play to students with an active interest in chess. These ambitious players participate in matches against other chess team members with the hope of reigning victorious, thereby demonstrating their ever sharpening chess skills. The chess club is yet another example of how Maury stays one move ahead of the crowd.

The Debate Team, sponsored by Mr. Davis, competes throughout the Tidewater area against other public schools in a series of rigorous debates en route to the district championship. The team's four acting members, Mary Bailey, Tracy Agostino, Brandon Zeigler, and Chuck Woolridge practice weekly in an effort to improve their debating and speaking skills. Though the team will be losing three of its members to graduation this year, Mr. Davis hopes to replenish and expand his team during the '86-'87 school year with the help of his new founded debate class. This class is the beginning of a Maury tradition in debate.

National Honor Society

The Maury chapter of the National Honor Society headed by Mr. Lane-Lauman is Maury's most prestigious academic club. The club's goal is to recognize the achievements of those students who maintain a grade point average of 3.3 or better in Maury's challenging curriculum. In addition to espousing scholastic achievements, the NHS also engages in service activities such as their annual blood which benefits the Red Cross. National Honor Society students are truly at the top of their class.

Beta Club

The Beta Club, sponsored by Jan Anten, is an honor and service organization which strives to better Maury and its surrounding community through club activities. To be accepted into this prestigious club, students must achieve and maintain a 3.0 or better grade point average. The club's yearly school activities and fund raisers consist of selling candy grams at Halloween and Valentine's Day as well as the standard club candy sales and car washes. All collected funds this year go toward the club's benefactor, a sponsored child from overseas.

The Black Studies Club

The Black Studies Club, co-sponsored by Ms. Farrar-Lake and Ms. Gardner, strives to increase student involvement in both school and community affairs. The club is open to all students willing to give their best to the club. The sponsors accompany these students on various field trips in an effort to increase the students' awareness of the current issues affecting the black community and of their personal responsibility to help bring about the changes needed. The club members donate to needy persons in the community by assembling Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter baskets. Considering all that this club accomplishes, it comes as no surprise that the Black Studies Club is one of the most renowned at Maury.

MASB

The Maury Associated Student Body has enjoyed another satisfying year. Maury's representative body of students put together yet another enjoyable homecoming. The MASB also sponsored such activities as the post game dance. During the past basketball season, the group enthusiastically sold booster badges and various types of candies for the benefit of the school. April Schmidt and Marty Bechtol provide faculty support to this wonderful group of students.

The Maury Log, our school's newspaper, is sponsored by Mrs. Tanges. The Maury Log is published six times a year and covers news at Maury, the community, and it even reports on worldwide news. The staff is composed of students who have a burning desire to be a journalist. The newspaper is a valuable part of Maury because it brings complex issues and problems to our attention while at the same time it offers possible solutions to these problems.

This year's Maury Commodore staff has devoted both their time and energy to the task of creating the best yearbook possible. Heading the Commodore staff are seniors Tracy Agostino, copy editor, and Daniella Cracknell, design editor. The rest of the staff performs the jobs needed for an yearbook to be produced. These jobs are varied and range from designing layouts and writing copy to promoting the yearbook and selling advertisements. Yearbook sponsor Alex Blackwell serves as an unofficial editor-in-chief of the Commodore. He also gives support and leadership to the staff. Together, the entire staff did their best in making this year's yearbook one of the best that Maury has ever had.

FACULTY

The constant is the teachers. The subjects change, the methods change, the text changes, even the facts change, but what does not change are those dedicated people who unravel the mysteries and hold us to the course of knowledge, understanding and compassion. Our teachers would be at home in 1911, and with a little updating of curriculum, the 1911 teachers would be at home in 1986. The bond between the two is the caring. For this we salute those teachers who carry on this idea of caring from generation to generation.

Change of Command

Maury has new chief commander this year-Mr. James Slaughter. Mr. Slaughter is no stranger to the Norfolk Public School System, however, having been both an administrator and teacher at various schools within the system. Mr. Slaughter grew up in Angier North Carolina and graduated from the local high school there. After that, he went on to receive his B.A. from Atlantic Christian College and his graduate degree from William and Mary. Mr. Slaughter's many goals include continuing the strong tradition Maury has in academics, while at the same time improving efforts to help students involved with the remedial programs. He also intends to continue to build on our ever growing school spirit. Mr. Slaughter's attitude toward the job of an administrator is reflected in his ability to perform his job so well. He feels administrators should serve in schools similar to a father-punishing when needed;praising when possible.He believes adminstrators need to be accessible to parents, teachers, students, and most important, to always be able to listen.

Mr. Slaughter's Crew

Running a large school such as Maury is too much of a responsibility for one man to handle alone. Mr. Slaughter and the students at Maury are privileged to have these four fine assistant prinipals. Dr. Peele and Mr. Oliver, both returning from their second year, are responsible for making sure that the scheduling department runs smoothly. Veterans Mr. Baker and Mr. Brown are in charge of maintaining discipline within the school. Together these administrators, along with Mr. Slaughter, can handle any problems that may arise during the school year.

Maury's Secretaries

Maury's secretaries, the cornerstone of all school business activity, keeps Maury running effectively. With careful diligence, these ladies ast as typist, file clerks, and receptionists, becoming virtually indispensable. We appreciate the attention to details, and above all, we appreciate the prrompt action these women take to ensure an efficient school.

Attendance Officers

Maury's attendance officers, fondly known as narcs, often go unappreciated by students whom it is the attendance officer's duty to keep in line. By breaking up fights and apprehending skippers, the attendance officers receive an unwelcome reputation. These officers do, however, provide a vital service to Maury and are really are friends.

Custodians and Cafeteria Staff

The custodial and cafeteria staff at Maury provide both students and faculty a home away from home. Throughout the day, and well into the night, the custodians staff works to keep this very old building in the best shape possible. While the custodians are busy with their chores, the cafeteria staff has the huge responsibility of cooking, feeding, then cleaning for Maury's huge population. These men and women truly work hard to make sure that we have the best day possible.

ACADEMICS

Academics is why we come to Maury High School. Academics is why three and half generations of Norfolk's residents have come to Shirley Avenue, worn these steps, scared these walls, and squeaked the floors. Now it is time to repair and replace the steps, walls, and floors, but no one can ever replace the highest purpose of education which Maury truly embodies. For those who have achieved the highest marks in the ultimate purpose of Maury High School, 75 years of history and 75 years of the future salute you.

A.P. History Classes

Many of the great historians here at Maury often enroll in one of the offered A.P. History classes. One such A.P. class is U.S. History which is taught by Mrs. Fuller. This college level course is designed to give students an in-depth study of major documents, historians, and interpretation of American history. In addition to A.P. U.S. History, Maury offers A.P. European History which is taught by Mr. Harrison. The aim of this course is to give students an awareness of the consequences of European contacts with other areas of the world. The course also develops the student's ability to analyze historical evidence. Finally, Mr. Lane-Lauman teaches A.P. Art History. This class promotes students' intellectual enjoyment and critical examination of works of art. These classes give these college preparatory students an extra edge towards a history major.

SCIENCE

Maury offers a variety of mathematical and technical related A.P. classes. A.P. Calculus is taught by math chairman Mr. Pitt. This course includes the material needed to do well on the SAT as well as college level classes. Another A.P. course in this field is A.P. Biology. This class, taught by Mrs. Petroske, puts emphasis on the development of the students' ability to organize facts into concepts and to express these concepts in scientific composition. The A.P. Art course, taught by Mr. Lane-Laumann, is designed for a student wishing to continue with personal exploration and individualized instruction in a specific medium. These three course are designed for students with special abilities in these areas.

Languages

A.P. English

Students with an interest in languages have many A.P. courses available to them here at Maury. Those students interested in their own native language may sign up for A.P. English which is taught by Mrs. Self. A.P. English is a college level course for students with advanced reading, writing and thinking skills. Those students interested in foreign languages have their choice of several A.P. courses as well. These include: A.P. French, taught by Mrs. Pickett; A.P. German, taught by Mrs. Zentz; and A.P. Spanish taught by Mr. Saks. This year these students, with with exceptional ability in their foreign languages, are honored.

Cottingham Receives Top Honors

It has always been a known fact to students here at Maury that Mr. Donald Cottingham is a truly remarkable teacher. This past October, however, the rest of the state, along with the rest of the nation, became aware of it as well. Mr. Cottingham was awarded the Presidential Award for Excellence in Science and Math Teaching by a committee appointed by the National Science Foundation. One math and one science teacher were picked from the state. Mr. Cottingham went to the White House in October to receive the award which was a five thousand dollar grant to buy science equipment for Maury. All of the students and faculty here at Maury are sincerely proud of our Mr. Cottingham.

Tidewater Challenge

As team members on Maury's sole academic club, Tidewater Challenge members must be knowledgeable in a vast number of subjects and be quick to respond when questioned. Sponsored by WHRO television, the team competes against other area teams en route to a championship victory. Mrs. Self and Mrs. Ramsey coach the team which is made up of several of Maury's top students. Because of the academic nature of the club, the Tidewater Challenge is held in high esteem both at Maury and throughout the community.

1985 Banquet Honor

The Maury Honor's Banquet, held annually in the spring, honors those students who have attained academic excellence throughout the school year. Established by Mr. Cottingham, the banquet gives these students varsity letters identical to those given for athletic achievement.

This year's banquet was held at ODU's Webb Center. The guest speaker was columnist Guy Fridell. In addition, many Norfolk dignitaries were in attendance, including School Board Chairman Thomas Johnson and Superintendent Dr. Gene Carter.

Maury Receives An A

Maury was awarded the first ever Superintendent's Award for Academic Excellence this year for the 1984-1985 school year. The award was instituted by Norfolk's Superintendent of Schools Dr. Gene Carter to be given to the school receiving the most points for criteria measuring academic strength. Maury has also been recognized by strengths in athletics by winning the Superintendent's Cup since its inception.

$40,000 Scholarships: The Fast Track To Responsibility.

Four-year NROTC scholarships are one way to get early responsibility as a Navy officer. This highly competitive program offers tuition and other financial benefits worth over $40,000. All these benefits are provided for one purpose: to educate and train qualified young men and women to serve as commissioned officers in the Navy. In fact, this NROTC Scholarship Program is the largest source of regular Navy officers.

Well Cuz!

Thought we would get through the last four years but we did. It's been tough but with our close family support we seem to have done well.
I hope we are still good people after our 4 years of college! Remember that I will always be there for you if you need me. I know this little paragraph sounds cute but there is so much
I want to write and don't know how well --- This IS IT!

Keep the faith!

your cuz
Boy

To My Dearest Michelle,

Like I told you, I loved you the first time that I laid eyes on you. You mean more to me than I can say. I know you probably thought that I was off when I told you "I Love You". A person as special as you only deserves the best and I hope that you consider me as one of the best things that ever happened to you because you surely are the best thing that has happened to me. I hope that you will be willing to spend your life with me. (Love 4ever)
Reggie

To Michelle
 It's been really great getting to know I hope for you the best and please make a good future
 for yourself

Congratulations on your

 I will be there for you

To My Dear Sister
 Well we have through this detail in new for the real world in funny ways cut in our lives and down values. May luck be your always and may
 I turn to unless you
 I will always be there if you need me.

Love Always
 your incredibly talented and wonderful sister
 Rochelle Coleman
 May God Bless
 and keep you

To Michelle
 I hope you have a great future and know that I will be there for you

To Michelle,
 a very nice young lady
 whom I've met this year.
 I wish you the best of luck in the future. Stay sweet and be careful with the young men in your life. Good luck in the future

Mama

To: Michelle,
(1/2 half of my sweet daughters.)
Well, I guess you thought come; time will "would never come". It is the time it is "Graduation time". It is but here it is, these last four years, been a rough time, the very best of but you've made it. May God bless everything, in the future. May God bless & keep; And may his light always shine on you.
may the future bring you happiness & success.
it will always be here for you, for Ieta, & for Michelle. I love you very much.
Love always,
"Mama"
